

21/09/2005

Thank you Melissa.

I hope your practice is going fabulously - you offer such a unique thing and with so much heart/intelligence.

I had a great experience with you. I now give presentations at meetings and am also engaged in negotiations on behalf of some traditional owners with a mining company. I still get nervous - but the dread is easing and I think more and more about the idea of giving people a gift whenever I have something to present.

Take care

Emily